

the beauty of a poem:

fallen leaves unfolding on a pond

a puppy thrown from a cliff an old house crumbling onto the sidewalk

a rose dying

a baby crying for no reason a wonderful old man in the park sparks flying from a blacksmith's hammer and a piece of someone's mind ...

1-16-79