

Life is but a ladder

To the hayloft of our minds.

The barns of our bodies are nothing but mere sheds,
Were it not for haylofts which represent our heads.

High above and filled with straw

And reached by just one ladder,

We'll get there and say we saw

That hay would make us gladder.

7-27-50

WHAT?